

ROCKY MOUNTAIN DIVISION OF THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR IDENTIFICATION

2019 ANNUAL EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

MAY 15-17, 2019

REGIS UNIVERSITY - CLAVER HALL

DENVER, COLORADO

The Rocky Mountain Division of the International Association for Identification (RMDIAI) is offering a limited number of free seats to classes and presentations at our annual educational conference held May 15-17, 2019, at Regis University in Denver.

We're offering these particular classes for free to law enforcement and fire personnel:

Understanding and Planning for School Bombing Incidents 5/16 8-noon

Homemade Explosives: Awareness, Recognition, and Response 5/16
1:30-3pm

Case presentation on the 2010 Times Square bombing plot 5/16 3-4pm

Case presentation on the 2016 Brussels suicide bombing attacks 5/16
4-5pm

CBRNE/TIC and Hazmat Forensic Evidence Collection and Packaging Techniques 5/15 1-5pm

More detailed information on these classes can be found on our website: <https://www.rmdiai.org/2019-conference.html>

The classes are free, but parking is $3 per day. You can go to some or all of the classes. We have a limited number of seats available on a first come-first served basis.

Do not register on the website. RSVP's can be made to:
heather.hatfield@cityofthornton.net